Some Advent Feast Days

December 6: St. Nicholas Day

- Learn about this 3rd Century bishop at The St. Nicholas Center.
- Have kids put their shoes/stockings by the fireplace/front door the night before. Fill them with chocolate coins, candy canes, fruit, nuts or other gifts.
- Make a homemade card to mail your own bishop, assuring him of your prayers.
- As patron of bakers, honor St. Nicholas by starting your Christmas baking and in the spirit of the saint's hidden generosity, secretly deliver the goodies to neighbors.
- As patron of children, honor St. Nick by asking the children's hospital if there is anything they need toys, cozy stockings, or hospitality items for the families of sick kids.
- Recite 'Twas the Night Before Christmas. Add a St. Nicholas prayer to mealtime grace.

December 8: The feast of the Immaculate Conception

- Review this teaching of our faith and explain it to your kids.
- Clean your house together, reflecting on Mary's clean heart ready to receive Jesus.
- Place an image of Mary on your dining table. Light a white candle as a symbol of her purity.
 Light as many of your family's Baptismal candles as you can find: a symbol of how God cleanses our souls in Baptism so we, too, can welcome Jesus with pure hearts.
- Do an examination of conscience and act of contrition. Renew your commitment to living like
 Mary, with a heart open to the Holy Spirit and his promptings at all times.
- Clean your house together, reflecting on Mary's clean heart ready to receive Jesus.
- Wear white and/or eat white food (white cake etc.) as a symbol of Mary's purity.
- Learn the history of how the Immaculate Conception became patroness of the U.S.A., and pray a family rosary for our country.

December 12: Our lady of Guadalupe

- Learn the story of Mary's apparition to St. Juan Diego in Mexico in the 16th century. This children's lesson includes an explanation of the symbolic imagery. Here is a coloring page. This 2 minute video shows people celebrating in Mexico City. Our Lady of Guadalupe is patroness of the Americas.
- Place an image of Our Lady of Guadalupe in a prominent place for the day.
- Cook a Mexican meal together (such as tostadas and guacamole) or order take-out.
- Ask someone with Mexican heritage how they celebrate this feast or how to pray the Hail Mary in Spanish. If you ARE Hispanic, share the richness of your traditions with others. Maybe drop off images of Our Lady of Guadalupe to neighbors. Include a small bag of Mexican treats, well-wishes, and a smile. Even non-Catholics won't refuse!
- For further adult reading, look at Science Sees What Mary Saw From Juan Diego's Tilma.
- For more ideas on how to celebrate: though written for a Covid year, this list of 10 things to do at home is true to Mexican tradition; this creative post is a mom's take, very kid-friendly.

December 13: St. Lucy

- Learn about St. Lucy and the traditions associated with her feast day.
- Serve sweet rolls for breakfast, purchased or homemade. A Norwegian tradition has the eldest daughter bring sweet rolls to her family in the morning, wearing a wreath with candles on her head – as the saint brought food to early Christians in the catacombs.
- As Lucy's name means light, start turning on your Christmas lights each night beginning on her feast day, eat dinner by candlelight, or take a drive to look at Christmas lights.
- Wear red, the color of those martyred for their faith in Jesus, and ask St. Lucy's prayers for all those in the world persecuted for their faith even today.
- As patroness of eyes, honor St. Lucy by donating used eye-glasses to the Lions Club, or look up a local institute for the blind and learn how you can help.
