Sacrament of Confirmation Defined by the Catechism of the Catholic Church

THE SACRAMENT OF CONFIRMATION

CCC1285: Baptism, the Eucharist, and the Sacrament of Confirmation together constitute the “sacraments of Christian initiation,” whose unity must be safeguarded. It must be explained to the faithful that the reception of is necessary for the completion of baptismal grace. For “by the Sacrament of Confirmation, [the baptized] are more perfectly bound to the Church and are enriched with a special strength of the Holy Spirit. Hence they are, as true witnesses of Christ, more strictly obliged to spread and defend the faith by word and deed.”

Spiritual Strengthening: It provides a special outpouring of the Holy Spirit, like that given to the Apostles at Pentecost, to empower the faithful to spread and defend the faith by word and deed.

Indelible Mark: Like Baptism, it imprints a permanent spiritual character on the soul. It can only be received once, empowering the confirmed person to officially profess their faith publicly.

Confirmation Overview

Confirmation completes baptismal grace, strengthening young people through the Holy Spirit for deeper participation in the life and mission of the Church. Parents are the primary formators of their children in faith, nurturing that faith from their earliest years. During preparation for Confirmation, catechists and sponsors partner with parents to help young people:

- deepen their sense of belonging in the Church;
- grow in their identity as beloved children of God;
- encounter Jesus Christ through Scripture, prayer, and the sacramental life of the Church; and, respond to the Holy Spirit's call to mission, service, and witness.

A Message from Bishop William Joensen

“Confirmation is a sacrament that's meant to strengthen baptismal grace and anchor a young person's identity in Christ. By celebrating the sacrament in sixth grade, we continue to build a solid faith foundation upon which our young people will sow God's spirit as they enter adolescence. It is our firm belief and hope that they will be emboldened with the gifts of wisdom, understanding, knowledge, counsel, courage, and a devoted love for Jesus and his father, along with all God's saints. We infer that earlier confirmation better serves families and equips young people to see themselves as on mission to live as Jesus did and to share his love with others.”
