Meet Angie Whitfield, an administrator at Saint Albert Catholic School. Whitfield earned a Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education from the University of Saint Mary's in Leavenworth, Kansas and both a Master's Degree in Curriculum and Instruction and a Master's Degree in K-12 Administration from Concordia University.

Although this is Whitfield's second year at Saint Albert, she brings more than 20 years of experience as an established educator, having worked in both public and Catholic schools. As the Director of Academics, Whitfield evaluates the school's academic program scope and sequence, cultivates teacher leadership, works to improve instruction, and applies data to drive school improvement.

"I am thankful to have the opportunity to work in Catholic Schools, as this enables me to be an integral part of a special community that is ultimately supported by the Holy Spirit," shared Whitfield. "Being part of this community allows me to demonstrate acts of charity through my love of God and my love of others. How lucky we Catholic educators are to be able to share this love with the next generation of Catholic youth."

Whitfield and her husband Chris have two grown children and she is a parishioner of Saint Columbkille in Papillion, Nebraska. When she is not at school, Whitfield enjoys spending time with her family, neighborhood friends, and visiting the Ozarks.
