Curriculum Evaluation

Regular and on-going evaluation of the total curriculum is necessary to ensure that the intended or written curriculum is being delivered and producing the desired results. Curriculum evaluation includes gathering information data with which the school can make decisions about student learning and program effectiveness.

The Principal should serve as the facilitator of the local school's effort to gather information from comprehensive assessments in order to make decisions about the local effectiveness of the curriculum and instruction.

All Principals, in collaboration with the Diocese Schools Office, should determine diocesan-wide curriculum effectiveness.
